

DAILY GRAPHIC REVIEW OF NEWS EVENTS

LITTLE AILEEN RIGGIN, of New York, a world's champion swimmer and diver in the Olympic meet, illustrates for the movies the "One and a Half Jack Knife" or the "Dutchman's Dive."

Copyright, 1923, International News Service.

ONLY "THE KID," Jackie Coogan, juvenile film star, who proves that "clothes make the man" — different from his screen make-up. (Int'l News Reel.)

HER GRACIOUS MAJESTY, Eugenia Taylor (right), Queen of the Court of Aladin, in her coronation robes at the pageant in San Antonio, Tex., to commemorate the Fall of the Alamo and the Battle of San Jacinto, by which Texas won her independence from Mexico. (W. W.)

EUNICE AGNES GANLEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Ganley, of New Rochelle, N. Y., is a keen favorite with the spring colony at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. (Int'l News Reel.)

JOHN THE DISCIPLE, merely a Bavarian peasant in everyday life, becomes a great actor in the Oberammergau Passion Play, to the scene of which he was bound when photographed. (K. V.)

COUNTESS MARKIEVICZ, who fought in the famous Easter Irish uprising and is in America upholding the anti-treaty "Republic," makes phonographic record of her "Message from Ireland to America." (Int'l N. R.)

MAIL ORDER BRIDE WINS DE CREE—Milda Mialovich (left), who came from Czechoslovakia to wed San Francisco man, said he allowed her only 60 cents a day for herself and her children.

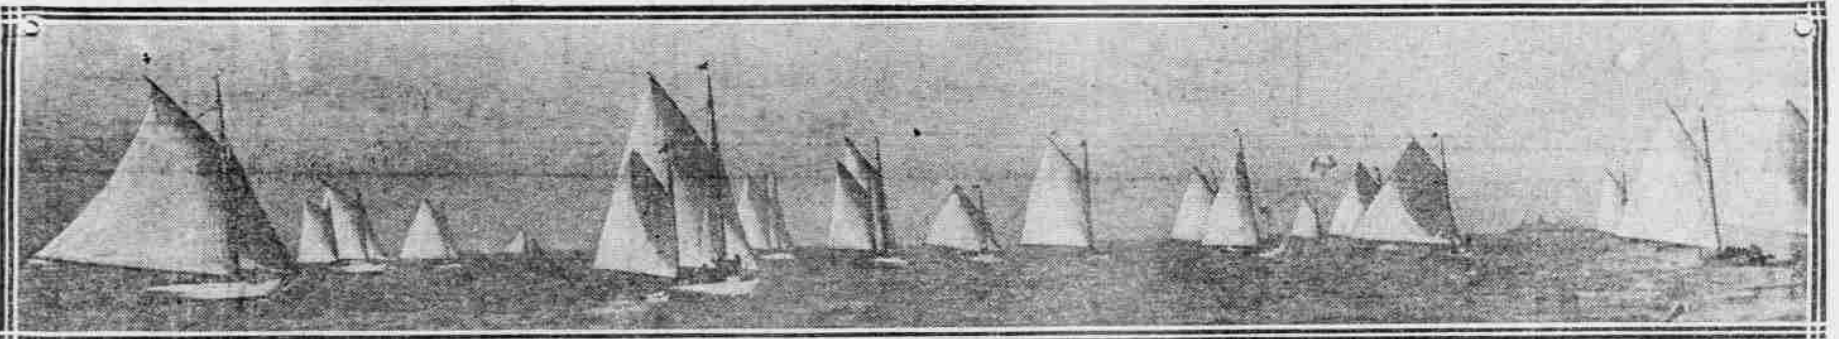

"BEST MINDS" ON ARBITRATION MEET—The Arbitration Society of America, leading jurists and educators, met in New York. Left to right: Julius S. Bache, Horace Delisser, former Senator James A. O'Gorman, U. S. Court Justice Julian Mack, Judge Moses H. Grossman, Justice C. L. Guy, Julius Rosenwald, Dr. Charles Fleischer, Franklin Simon, Emerson McMillan, president. (Int'l News Reel.)

NEW WATERPROOF CAPES have been adopted by New York society women. They are made of paper and protect their wearers in inclement weather. Left to right: Mrs. Julian M. Gerard, Mrs. Horatio Shonard and Mrs. Littleton Fox. (Int'l News Reel.)

ELEANOR O'BRIEN, sixteen, high school girl, Pacific coast swimming champion, is training at Oakland, Cal., for the Olympic competition. U. U.

EIGHTY YACHTS SPREAD THEIR SAILS to the breeze in San Francisco Bay when the Pacific Coast yachting season officially opened. (U. U.)

RUFFLED SONGBIRDS' FEATHERS—Mary Garden, former director of the Chicago Opera Company, admitted the director's position had its drawbacks as she sailed from New York for Europe. (C.) (U. U.)

NOVEL PLEA—Erminia Frederici, school teacher from Italy, ordered deported because of excess immigration quota, appealed to Washington that an alien "visitor" is not an immigrant.

A LONG ENGAGEMENT faces Miss Ynez Gay, who has accepted the proposal of C. Leigh Fullerton, held in the Los Angeles jail as a confessed bank embezzler. They will be married when he is freed. (Int'l News Reel.)

BECKY LANIER (right), New York society equestrienne, whose marvelous horsemanship has won hundreds of trophies, takes "Mayflower" over the jumps on the Percy Rockefeller estate.

